The Story of Riley

in 1946-47

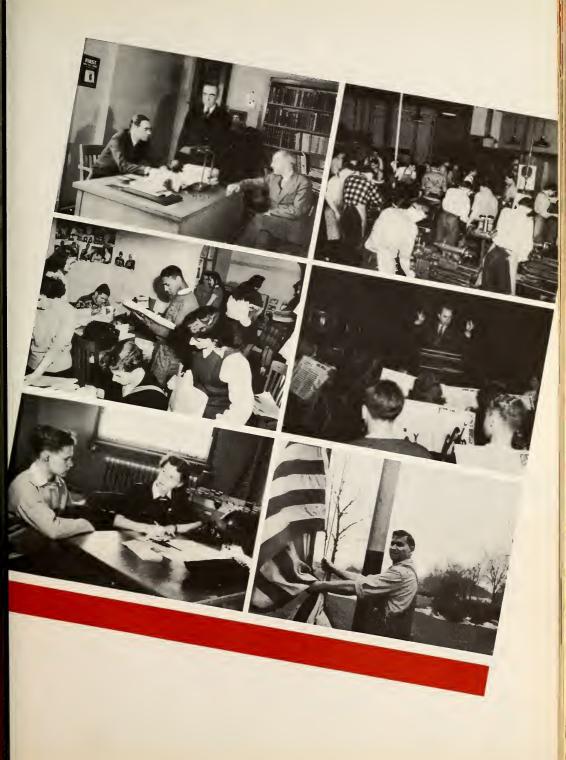

While it is still early in the morning we enter Riley. It is here at school where we spend our adolescent days, going to the classes, participating in activities and enjoying the atmosphere of social contact with other people. Whether we are entering Riley for the first time or not, we know that each day holds something new for us—and we are eager as we walk up the familiar walks and pull open the big brown doors.

Something different has been odded at Riley this year. The students in Room 104, ranging in grades from 8B to 10A, all have a comman interest, that of playing an instrument in the orchestro, and for this reason they have all bee placed in one home room to enable them to practice during sponsor period tagether. Every morning shortly after 8:30, practice begins, under the direction of Miss Briggs, their teacher and leader.

Administration

In the offices of Principal Glenn S. Kropf, Assistant Principal H. H. Ogden, and head Counsellor Lawrence T. Pate, the various problems of keeping our school system runing smoothly are discussed.

- (1.) Mr. Kropf gets the student's view-point on some matters of school functions, and gives advice to anyone who needs it.
- (2.) These three head officers have in their hands the many problems which arise in Riley.

- (3.) Mr. Ogden advises in all phases of work as Assistant Principal, and is in charge of all attendance records.
- (4.) With a student helper, Mr. Pate makes out program cards, and as head counsellor, he sends out student-progress reports.

- (1.) Miss Elizabeth Turner of the main office instructs students on the use of the school files.
- (2.) Miss Bernice Fiedler, in charge of daily school attendance, checks each period attendance slips.
- (3.) Training of the operation of the switchboard is given to a student by an experienced operator.
- (4.) The P. T. A. is enrolled to help in school affairs and problems.
- (5.) Taking ticket orders over the telephone is one of the various duties of Mr. Harley Stech in the bookstore.
- (6.) Mrs. Clara McClary of the bookstore furnishes students with various school supplies and tickets for games and plays.

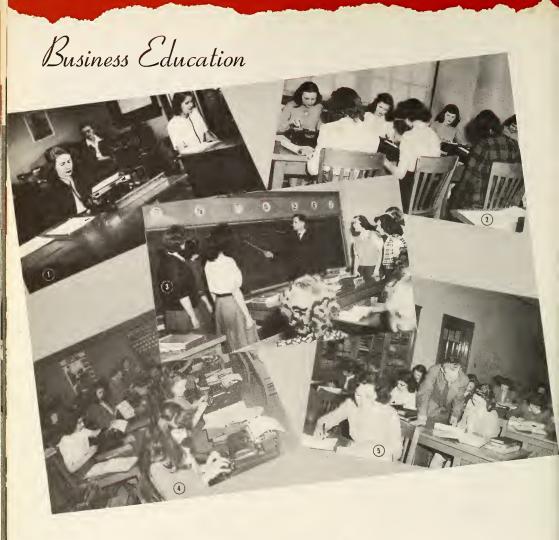

- (1.) Artistic posters, and other art work come from the Art Department of which Miss Flora Sanderson is the head.
- (2.) Mr. Faust assists students to blossom out with their artistic talents.
- (3.) Mrs. Walsh's art students turn out decorative designs which make a beautiful wall display.

- (4.) Interior Decorating students study the principals of an artistic and well-balanced home.
- (5.) Wielding the paint brush is a serious art to these students.

Business is said to be "the backbone of the nation." The Business Education Department teaches the fundamental steps for a strong business future, starting with an Introduction to Business course which gives the student an over-view of that field.

This department gives a close-up view of what the office worker is going to have to contend with when he is led out into this thriving business-minded world. But "Experience is the best teacher."

(1.) Miss Katharine Van Buskirk, head of Business Education Department, teaches her Office Practice class the use of the dictaphone in transcribing letters.

- (2.) Calculating proves to be useful and very absorbing.
- (3.) Mr. Vernon O. Bachtel drills his class with shorthand vocabulary.
- (4.) Typing drills help to increase the students' speed and control.
- (5.) Mr. George Koch assists his Book-keeping students to balance their accounts.

- (1.) Miss Bess L. Wyrick divides her class time between teaching typing and advising members of the Hi-Times Staff.
- (2.) Mr. Lionel R. Martin's Introduction to Business class presents the background to business.
- (3.) Dictaphone work is a part of Office Practice curriculum.
- (4.) Mr. Koch's Business Arithmatic class is an essential fundamental basis of business.
- (5.) Mr. Martin teaches typing also and gives his students a ten-minute test.
- (6.) Office Practice students learn the use of the ditto in producing copies in large quantities.

English is a major subject and a requirement for every student from the very first years of school right through high school.

Here are taught the tools of speech, literature, and the creative and well-expressed English writing.

This department furnishes the background for all other subjects for it is comprehensive reading which is required in other subjects.

(1.) Class discussion is a vital learning process and is conducted by Miss Genevieve B. Hopkins, head of the English Department.

- (2.) Miss Marcella Mitchell's English V class learns the principles of good English.
- (3.) The English drill book is Miss Lura Van Scoy's way of teaching her class English rules of punctuation.
- (4.) Miss Grace Lushbaugh indicates to her class good sentence structure by way of verb principles.
- (5.) Mrs. Isabel Doyle explains to a student the essentials of good poise during speech-making.
- (6.) To correct their speech, Miss Edith L. Steele's English students hear their own voices on records.

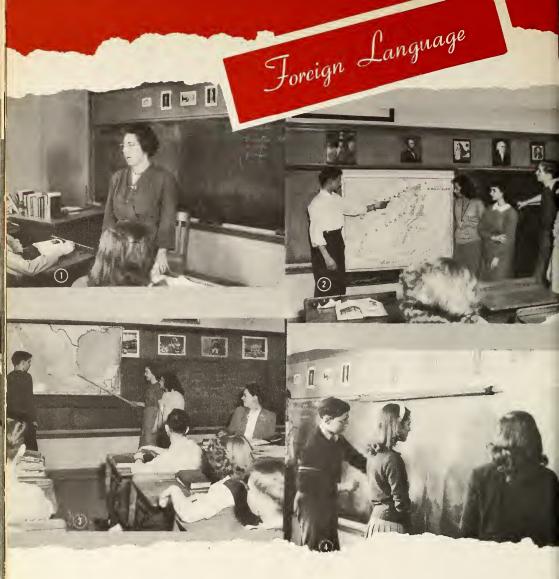

- (2.) Correct facial expression is an asset to correct English, as taught by Miss Edith L. Steele.
- (3.) Checking class work seems to be enjoyable work to Mrs. Mary Frances Myers and her students.

- (4.) The Drama Class with Mr. James L. Casaday criticizes the action of the amateur actors of the class.
- (5.) Besides teaching Math, Miss Florence Cripe teaches English and gives her students an explanation of their English lesson.

Many of the requirements of future occupations for our present body of students include Foreign Language. The Department of Foreign Language brings to us the language of our neighboring countries and tends to tie us closer with our foreign neighbors.

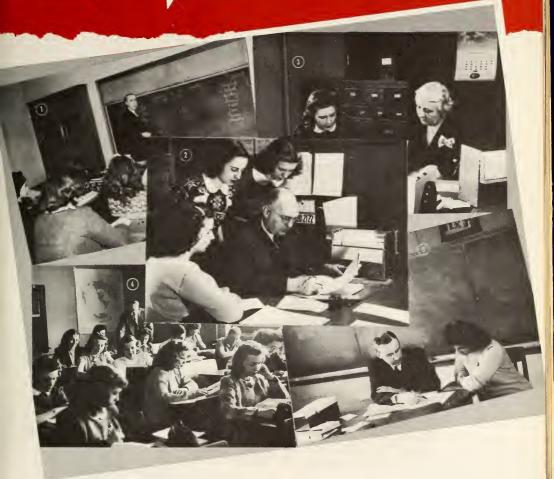

Foreign Language is a requirement of most of our colleges. Riley offers Latin, Spanish, and French.

(1.) Under the teaching of Miss Helen Steinhauser students are taught Spanish and Latin. Here they are locating the countries whose language they learn.

- (2.) Miss Elizabeth Noble explains to her Latin Class the various forms of Latin word endings.
- (3.) The French Class with Miss Bertha Kiel conduct a geographic map discussion.
- (4.) Students at the board study Latin word forms.

Guidance

The counselling and guidance of students comes from the Guidance Department which helps to prepare the student for his future plans.

Guidance also shows the student the different sides to social behavior.

- (1.) Mr. Lawrence T. Pate, head counsellor, explains to students the required credits to graduate and how a student can get them.
- (2.) Making out a student's cumulative record, as Mr. Russell E. Rhodes is doing, shows his achievements all through junior high and high school.

- (3.) Miss Janet Munro helps to plan a student's program for her next semester's studies.
- (4.) The study of social behavior is important to all students, Mr. Ernest C. Horn explains to his studying class.
- (5.) Checking carefully the student's program, Mr. Herschel Hawkins makes sure that the required number of majors and minors is included.

Home Economics

In Home Economics a girl is taught the fundamentals of good homemaking. Since the dominant ambition and the purpose of the human race is to have a proper home and raise a proper family, this department is most beneficial.

Foods, Clothing and Home Management gives a girl a pretty firm rung on their ladder of successful homemakers.

(1.) Girls in sewing class with the approval of Miss Martha Frueh fit and criticize each other's dresses.

- (2.) Miss Grace Marshall is kept busy with being in charge of the school cafeteria.
- (3.) Our efficient cafeteria workers provide the school with the appetizing noon meals.
- (4.) Girls in sewing class find that making their own clothes is better than buying.
- (5.) The correct threading of the machines is explained by Miss Pearl Sellars to her students.

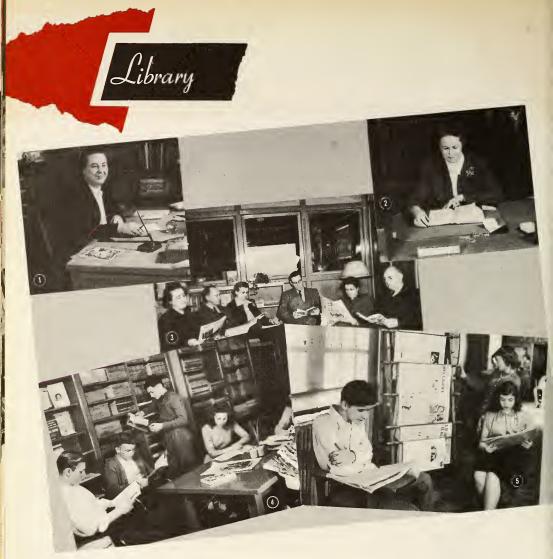

Home Economics

- (1.) The cooking class is taught the principles and organized steps of planning and making a well-balanced meal.
- (2.) Even boys enjoy cooking class, especially the enjoyment of eating what they make.
- (3.) These girls make their own clothes and get novel creations.

- (4.) After much preparation by the cafeteria help, students get a complete wellbalanced noon meal.
- (5.) The steps to a well-planned house is outlined by Miss Jean McAlpine, to her Home Management class.

The place where a student has at his disposal knowledge in any form and can refer to as many subjects as he needs. This denotes a well-supplied library.

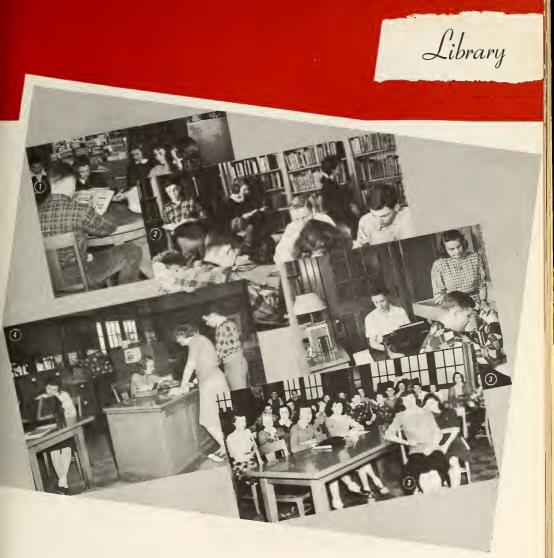

A student can find here a quiet place to accomplish his studies or any reference work he needs.

The quiet atmosphere and its many.conference rooms beckon the student to use it frequently.

(1.) Miss Lois R. Josephson, head of the library work with her well-organized staff to keep the library running smoothly.

- (2.) The assistance of Miss Naomi R. Pehrson has aided many students who need it in hunting for information.
- (3.) The faculty reading room is a place of quiet and content to the faculty who want to read in their spare time.
- (4.) The newspaper rack has benefited many students in keeping up with the current news.
- (5.) Students appreciate the magazine section of the library.

- (1.) There are many advantages for students who like to spend their spare time looking at magazines.
- (2.) The library provides a place for study and reference work.
- (3.) The library staff keeps the records straight and the library system in order.

- (4.) Checking out books is just one of the many tasks of the library staff.
- (5.) The library club promotes the systematic order of the library.

Industrial Arts

The teaching of the use of precision tools and machines is done in the Industrial Arts Department. From this teaching will come our future draftsman, tool and die maker and other occupations that tend to give a livelihood for our future wage-earners.

- (1.) Mr. Joseph Shafer, head of the department, checks a student's work for accuracy and precision.
- (2.) A student learns the mechanics of the "shaper" under the guidance of Mr.

Charles R. Bonham.

- (3.) Mechanical Drawing seems to be an absorbing job from the interest given to Mr. Earl C. Webb by the students.
- (4.) Planing wood to perfection is always an asset to a woodworker which is proved by Mr. F. L. Mock's watchfulness.
- (5.) Electricity is always beneficial and adds to the knowledge of any student.
- (6.) The bearing grinder operated by students smooths frayed edges.

The wonders of our advancing world are brought to science students who are interested in understanding the workings of our scientific civilization.

Chemistry, biology, and physics prepare the student for a better understanding of the whys and wherefores of science.

- (1.) The problems of chemistry are many and Mr. Carl C. Schubert, head of the Science Department, teaches a class that is no exception to trying to solve them.
- (2.) The life of microscopic animal is taught to biology students by Mr. J. Gregory Parker.

- (3.) The questions and answers of biology are taught both from the aid of Mr. Feliks L. Wiatrowski and the textbook.
- (4.) Mr. Forrest Marsh's room with its many biology displays is of constant wonder and interest to students.
- (5.) In Aeronautics class, Mr. Charles Hafron explains the function of the airplane motor and its parts.

The Glee Club's singing of such numbers as "One World", "The Lord's Prayer", and "Twas the Night Before Christmas" will be long remembered by Riley audiences.

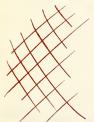

Lilting sounds of inspiring marches, waltzes, and overtures come from the auditorium as the school band plays under the baton of Mr. William E. Richardson. Whether rehearsing at 7:30 a.m. or playing a concert at 8:00 p.m., the band is always ready and capable.

The future school musicians come from the feeder or intermediate band which is composed of younger students who are training to be capable of being in the senior band.

Music

Riley's band and twirlers were dressed up brightly this fall when they were presented for the first time in their new uniforms. The performances they gave at the games and at concerts were well worth time and effort they put into rehearsal time.

The school orchestra under the direction of Miss Laura Briggs is composed of talented youngsters who play music on the fine arts side. The orchestra plays for concerts, at school affairs, and formal occasions in which they display their musical ability.

 $2 \times 2 = 4$, x - y, 2d 6z - 1d, these sounds bring immediately to our minds only one thing-MATHEMATICS. Whether it is high school math, algebra, or trigonometry the same goal is reached—the bringing to our minds a knowledge of figures which we contend with in every day problems of life and in occupations such as accounting, tool and die making, and draftsmanship.

Not only the serious side of application to work should be considered, for it is a lot of fun in some respects to zip off addition problems and juggle

- (1.) Miss Elizabeth Murphy, head of Mathematics Department, assists students with proposi-
- (2.) Mr. Harley A. Stech's class is taught the steps tions. in solving algebra problems.
 - (3.) High School Math with Mr. Harry Woodard is the basis for future algebra and geometry students.
 - (4.) Miss Mary Alice Kitson and her geometryminded students appear absorbed in propositions.

- (1.) Miss Marie Shively checks to see that students are doing their problems correctly.
- (2.) Under the guidance of Mr. Herschel Hawkins, students work out puzzling problems.
- (3.) Busy math students learn the powers of the math figures.

- (4.) Special assignments are given by Miss Violet E. Rohrer to her students.
- (5.) These students listen as Miss Florence Cripe explains a difficult problem.

The Social Studies Department, of History, Civics, and Sociology takes us to many lands and promotes a speaking acquaintance with our foreign neighbors.

Here is taught the quickest routes to our many neighbors and a little about their home life in comparison to ours.

- (1.) Students are taught workings of the legislature of Indiana, and our Federal government in Mr. Russell E. Rhodes' Civics class.
- (2.) World history students find our neighboring countries under the watchful eye of Mr. Paul L. Kelly.

- (3.) This student seems to need a bit of Miss Edithe I. Snoke's assistance on the map of the United States.
- (4.) The study of our world, with Mr. W. E. Campbell at the globe, is vital to every student especially in these times.
- (5.) What goes on in the world around the United States is important to know; Mr. Alton B. Meyer explains to his students.
- (6.) Miss Janet Munro quizzes her social studies class to see what they have gained from their lessons.

- (1.) Students work hard in social studies as Mr. Bert Anson sees that every thing is clear to them.
- (2.) Sociology is a beneficial subject to seniors and absorbing, as plainly seen. Mr. Claude M. Wolfram has the attention of the whole class.
- (3.) Mr. Ernest C. Horn's students see history from the logical viewpoint as well as what the text suggests.
- (4.) The social studies class of Mr. Herschell Hawkins studies the various phases of the government.
- (5.) The social studies class with Mr. Robert H. Forbes at the head studies maps.
- (6.) These students seem to know pretty well what their United States consists of on the map.

Physical Education

The strenuous task of building students' bodies is done through this department. Both the boys and girls take part in this vital program.

Everything from sports, calisthenics, and general build-up is promoted.

- (1.) Miss Catherine Lauer, girls' physical education director, plans an athletic program with the approval of students.
 - (2.) With the boys, Mr. Harry Woodard participates in gym activities.

- (3.) Strenuous calisthenics is a part of our physical build-up program.
- (4.) In charge of the gym laundry, Mrs. Elodia Youngs sees to it that clean gym suits are always on hand.
- (5.) Mr. Wayne Wakefield boys' physical education teacher gives his classes a well-balanced and well-planned program of gymnastics.

Color was added to the football games when these high-stepping twirlers and drum major performed with the band during halves.

"Go ye wildcats, go-o-o!" cheered B-Team yell leaders, Dick, Janet, and Betty Jo at hair-raising, (for those who do not have crewcuts) moments.

Leading the cheers during the football and basketball games, were varsity pepper-uppers, Shirley, Bud, Gloria, Leon, and Leila.

Activities

Soft and sentimental to jumpin' jive is included in the repertoire of the versatile Dance Band. Mr. William Richardson directs the group.

Riley's Hi-Y chapter under the sponsorship of Mr. Wilber Campbell spent an active year selling football pins, sending delegates to the state convention at Kokomo, collecting funds for the March of Dimes and presenting the annual Easter Assembly.

Couples from Riley shined up their dancing shoes for the traditional Swingheart Sway given at at the Palais Royale on February 14.

Time Passes

FIRST GAME-FIRST VICTORY

With ten seconds of the first half remaining and Riley on the short end of a 7-0 score, end Lennie Comegys raced into his end zone, button-hooked and waited. The hustling senior waited not long as halfback Art Derda's pass hit Comegys chest high for Riley's first score.

Fullback Jim White broke the 7-7 tie and scored the game-winning touchdown to give Riley a 20-13 victory over the Linton Miners in the Wildcat's first grid game of 1946.

A TALE OF 67 YARDS TRAVELED BY TOMPOS

Game! Riley vs. Mishawaka. Scene: School Field. Score: 6-6. Time: Second quarter. The ball rests on Riley's 33-yard line.

At this point quarterback Andy Tompos lines the Riley backfield into a short punt formation with himself in the tailback. Center Ken Smorin spirals to Tompos who is headed for the enemy right tackle and breaks through and reverses his field. Now he's doing a circus tight rope act down the sidelines. Next he's outrunning the entire Mishawaka secondary and completes the 67-yard trip and Riley leads, 12-6, and goes on to a 18-6 victory.

KRIDER SCORES-NO MORE

Don Krider had to leap high to snag Art Derda's pass in the end zone, but Krider held on, after falling down, and Riley led 6-0 in the first quarter. But that was the beginning and the end for the visitors as LaPorte scored twice in defeating Riley 13-6.

FOUR MEN SCORE AS MANY TOUCHDOWNS

Guard Mel Young fell on an Adam's fumble, and end Lonny Comegys raced around end a few plays later to score first for Riley. Three more touchdowns were in the rainy night's offing as the purple and gold scored 25 points to Adams' nothing. Art Derda, George Divijak, and Dick Turk, who went 71 yards, all tallied for the victors.

A GAME AND A LETTER

Riley whitewashed Sullivan of Chicago, 39-0, in barrage of touchdowns in which not only varsity men like White, Tompos; and Krider scored, but even B team player Roger Winter trotted into the end zone.

A month later a letter from the Chicago coach was received by Coach Kelly. It read: "We respect your ability to play good, clean, heads-up football. If you want us again next year, we promise you a better game."

"WELL SAID, MR. HAFRON, WELL SAID"

"It was great, it was magnificent, courageous, and something that all Riley should be proud of. Our boys proved to themselves and to all that Washington is not invulnerable or unbeatable. They are just another team like anyone else. They put their shoes on one foot at a time, just like our boys. The second half they realized that."

This is the 13-12 upset victory over Washington summarized by Assistant Coach Charles Hafron, as eleven Wildcats from the south side of South Bend had played the game of their career.

EVERYBODY SCORES BUT THE WATERBOY

Almost everybody scored a touchdown except manager Tom Gurbick as Riley annihilated North Side of Fort Wayne, 39-0. Touchdowns were a dime a dozen, occuring as frequently as Kelley could substitute.

A HEADLINE AND A STORY

Riley's weekly paper, The Hi-Times, ran a headline that screamed out, "Michigan City Upsets Cats, 19-12." A four inch story followed describing the local boys' second road-trip defeat in as many attempts.

70 YARDS WERE'NT ENOUGH

After beating Riley, 25-6, Indiana sportswriters two days later ranked Central third best team in Indiana, but Riley's 6 points of the game merit telling. Fullback Jim White intercepted a Bear pass on the foe's 30 and set sail for his goal line. White sprinted like a trackman and when reaching mid-field he waved good-by to his pursuers; then finished the 70 yard dramatic jaunt.

TENTH GAME-SEVENTH VICTORY

Andy Tompos scored his seventh touchdown of the season to nose out White's 36 points for high scoring honors, and Paul Frazier tallied his third touchdown of the campaign as Riley closed 1946 with a 19-0 win over Garfield of Terra Haute.

BASKETBALL

RILEY LEADS, 4-1, BUT-

The Central Bears hadn't beaten Riley for two years, since 1944 to be exact; but the Bears made up for lost time walloping the purple and gold 57-22, after the Cats briefly led, 4-1.

LONG WINTER FORECASTED

Senior Jim Welch collected more rebounds in this game than he did in any other battle of the season, but rebounds don't always pay off as Riley was defeated 40-18, by Washington, in the longest thirty-two minutes John Adams Auditorium witnessed all through 1946-47. The fans thought, "If this keeps up it'll be a long winter."

WELL, MAYBE NOT TOO LONG

The South Bend Tribune quoted: "Riley outfought, out-played, out-ball-hawked John Adams but didn't out-score the Eagles as they edged Riley, 33-29." Little Lora Overholser, a junior, fancied 13 points as fans anticipated his coming back in 1947-48.

OH VICTORY, WHERE ARE YOU?

Riley's dreams of a converence victory were disturbed by Mishawaka's 37-32 win over the weary Wildcats who were still in search of a court triumph.

"HERE IT IS," QUOTES JIM WELCH Jeffersonville traveled three-hundred miles to South Bend only to be sent home with Riley's first basketball success in five attempts, 41-31. Jim Welch thrilled the auditorium scoring 19 points—almost half of his team's total.

A HEROIC COMEBACK, BUT DEFEAT

Peru led 33-16, in the third quarter, but Riley staged a spectacular comeback, tying the score at 33-33. Peru then said goodbye, going on to win, 43-39.

The consolation game listed Riley and Frankfort. The Hotdogs won, 53-48, in an "all-offense game," as defenses had been left behind in the dressing rooms. Tom Keiser collected 17 points for the losers and three Peruvians scored 44 points combined.

JANUARY BRINGS 1947 AND TRIUMPH

January ushered in a new year and Riley's second victory of the season, beating the Plymouth Rockies, 53-42. Cliff Foster gleamed with 13 points as the Wildcats made 25 markers in the last quarter.

WIN FIRST OF FOUR CONFERENCE GAMES

Conference games with Washington, Central, LaPorte and Elkhart were next on the almost winless Riley schedule, but the Cats surprised South Bend fans by winning the first, 36-35. Jim Welch totaled 17 more points to his accumulation.

HAYS HITS TWICE THEN BEARS SAY GOODBYE

Junior Andy Hays had cracked two long shots to begin with and when two minutes of the first quarter had elapsed, Riley was again hanging on to a 4-1 lead. But Central had again humored the Cats as they went on winning, 42-24.

RILEY 46, LAPORTE 45—A GAME TO REMEMBER

If all records of this game are ever lost, the Riley-LaPorte contest of January 16, 1947, will never be forgotten by those who attended and played. Riley's seven-time defeated Wildcats upset the Slicers, who were co-leaders of the conference, 46-45, in one of the best played games John Adams Auditorium watched this season.

BLUE BLAZERS BRAVE BLIZZARD— BEAT LOCAL BOYS

Another one of those long evenings dragged through when Elkhart braved near freezing South Bend temperature and a blizzard to smother Riley, 48-29. Were these the same Wildcats that defeated LaPorte?

STOUT AND FOSTER LEAD FIFTH WIN

Bill Stout and Cliff Foster led Riley's 25 point fourth quarter drive to whip Culver, 56-46. Stout left the B team and gathered in ten points in his varsity debut.

"I'LL DO IT," SAYS CLIFF AND 20 POINTS

Cliff Foster literally said, "Let me do it boys," as the big senior center heaved 20 points through the Goshen baskets to lead his team to a 43-37 conference win.

HI-TIMES QUOTES DEFEAT

The Riley Hi-Times commented, "With six seconds left to play a Rochester Zebra hit the hoop for two points to give the Zebras a 41-40 victory. The Wildcats trudged to the showers with their ninth loss of the season as pandemonium reigned from the local fans."

OVERHOLSER AND HART STAR—BUT TO NO AVAIL

Lora Overholser, Bob Hart and Cliff Foster did their best to carry Riley to its seventh triumph as the trio scored 32 of the Cat's 44 points, but John Adams had looped one more point to win a 45-44 overtime thriller.

CATS WHIP CITY, 48-40; SLICERS LICK BEARS

While Riley was winning at Michigan City, 48-40, in nearby LaPorte the Slicers, defeated only by Riley in conference play, were unbelievingly shellacking Central, 60-36, who had won two scrimmage sessions with the Wildcats, 57-22 and 42-24. Thus the south siders were the only conference successors over the LaPortans, who tied Central in the final league standings.

Riley Hi-Y Club entertoined the team and coaches with a lunchean an the doy of Riley's sectional debut. That night, although the foad had digested, the Wildcats lost, 43-35.

The demond for sectional tickets was so great that a lattery was necessary. Here drawing out nomes is Forrest Wood, City Recreation Directar. Principal G. S. Kropf and Mr. Harley A. Stech, Comptraller, are watching.

SUDDEN DEATH KILLS RILEY—11TH TIME

After leading 39-37 with twelve seconds remaining, Ft. Wayne North Side tied the score and went on to hand Riley its eleventh setback of the season in a double overtime, 45-43. In the second overtime, which was sudden death, North immediately ended the heart-breaking game.

WELCH, FOSTER TAKE TURNS SCORING

Phenomenon: The first half against Nappanee Jim Welch scored 14 points; the last half a foul shot. Cliff Foster scored one foul shot the first half and 14 points the second half. Beating Nappanee, 57-40, however, was no phenomenon as the Wildcats warmed up for the sectional.

THIRTY-TWO MINUTE SECTIONAL APPEARANCE

Riley trotted backwardly onto John Adams floor on the first night of the South Bend sectional. People were perched everywhere except on the baskets themselves. Madison Township had traveled some eleven miles out of the country, over snow-covered roads to meet the eleven-time defeated city boys. After thirty-two minutes of one-sided action, the residential representatives had kissed 1947 a fond goodbye. The rural delegates had won, 43-36.

Graduation ceremonies mark the end of our days at Riley. We have left these familiar portals at the end of every day in the years that have past. As each day has gone gaily by, marking accomplishments and good times, we have gone step by step to the culmination of all these days—graduation, and the responsibility to use all that we have learned in our day by day life at Riley. Ones' Senior year is ageless.

most, so each of us entered the activities for which he was best suited—Glee Club — Band — Orchestra — Sports — Drama — Debate — School Clubs — Hi-Times—Student Council. We continued to buy War Stamps and Bonds, work on the Salvage Committee, and give generously to the Jr. Red Cross.

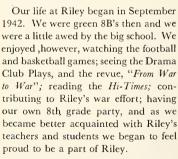

JUNIOR

Our school time is usually filled with many Senior events which make these last weeks and days before graduation fly with undreamed of speed.

As Sophomores and Juniors our evergrowing class moved on in the work and fun at Riley. We helped give the revue "Life of Riley" and the plays "Arms and the Man," "Whiteheaded Boy." We proudly followed our 1945 basketball team from the South Bend sectional and regionals to the Purdue semi-finals and then to Indianapolis for the state finals.

As Seniors the classes and activities went on somewhat as usual, but for us there was a difference because we realized that this was the last-the last football game—Christmas Assembly—Sectional-prom. There were special activities too-class meetings for election of officers-making appointments for senior pictures-January Commencement-Last Chance Dance-planning the Hoosier Poet-tryouts for the senior play "Tobias and the Angel"-awards assembly, where those who have excelled in scholarship and activities were especially recognized—the wonderful, wonderful prom-the senior issue of the Hi-Times-Cap and Gown Day-Senior Assembly-Baccalaureate-and the ending of our life at Riley, Commencement.-A.M.

These Riley High School students are enrolled in a new class room as offered by the Security Loan Company, 212 Sherland Building, a modern Personal Loan office, under the management of E. B. Murphy, a Riley High patron.

The small loan business has been recognized as one of the more important elements in the field of Consumer Credit, and it offers a specialized service in solving the family financial emergencies which invariably require money in a hurry.

This Personal Loan office has operated in this community for forty years and has been accepted by the various social and welfare agencies as filling an essential need. We are interested in having Riley Students, the Patrons and the Teaching Staff become more familiar with the Small Loan Business.

We invite everyone to pay a visit to this classroom, our time can be your time. "A friendly office operated by friendly people."

FACULTY

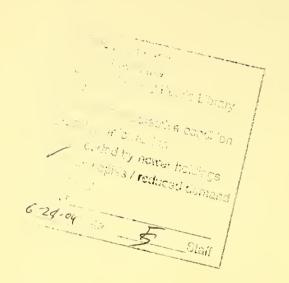

As we complete each day at Riley and, as we are finally graduated, we leave the school and go down the walks, our daily work completed.

Some will not return—they are again the Seniors. Others will be back to spend more happy days at school.

As the seniors walk away, their high school days completed, they look back with a sigh, but, at the same time, step boldly into a new phrase of their life.

And so we end our Story of Riley in 1946 and 1947.
